VICTORIA FALLS ZIMBABWE & ZAMBIA

Its Kololo name ‘Mosi-oa-Tunya’, roughly translates to ‘the smoke that thunders’ and is an apt description. Nearly 2km long and plunging down almost 108m this UNESCO Natural World Heritage Site is the largest waterfall in the world—thanks to the sheer volume of water cascading over its crags every minute.

Situated almost halfway along the Zambezi River and straddling both Zambia and Zimbabwe, Victoria Falls and its surrounds offers a range of experiences that will thrill even the most hardened adrenaline junkie. From bungee jumping to white-water rafting, one’s chances of getting bored are close to zero.

While Victoria Falls is a fantastic destination all year round, different seasons offer vastly different experiences. During the high water (May—August) the Falls are at their most dramatic, but can be obscured by the mist. During the dry seasons (from August—February) when the water is lower, one can get a better view of its dramatic landscape and take a plunge in the Devil’s Pool.
